STEEPLE CHARLIE'S GREAT FALL.—Charles Taylor, of Leominster, Mass., widely known as "Steeple Charlie," who has been in South Norfolk, Conn., for three weeks repairing the damage done by lightning to the steeple of St. Mary's Catholic Church, has met with a mishap that nearly cost him his life. An immense copper cross, fifteen feet high, is to be placed at the top of the steeple, and "Steeple Charlie" climbed to the lofty height in the morning to make the final preparation for the cross. He was just about to step from his ladder, when a sudden gust of wind caused the ladder to slip, and he fell. He was just about to step from his ladder, when a sudden gust of wind caused the ladder to slip, and he fell. He was just about to step from his ladder, when a sudden gust of wind caused the ladder to slip, and he fell.

"Steeple Charlie," by a lucky turn in the air as he fell through space, caught hold of one of the ballards suspended from above, and in this way broke the force of his fall as he swung himself on to a narrow shelf over a small diamond-shaped window half way down the spire. There he remained until his nerves had become quieted, and then proceeded to his dangerous labor up at the steeple top.

THE SPIRITS SEPARATED THEM.—Mrs. John Morris, the wife of a mill man living at Allegheys, Pa., has deserted her husband and is now living with a young man named Frank King. Mrs. Morris did not go through the formality of getting a divorce. "The spirits have separated us," she says, "and through their chosen medium have told me that my husband is Frank King. I fully believe in spiritualism. It is the only true religion and governs my every act."

ECZEMA FROM CHILDHOOD

When an infant my body broke out all over with an eruption of rash, which became more aggravated as I grew older. Every noted physician in our section was tried or consulted. When I came of age I visited Hot Springs, Ark., and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. When all things had failed I determined to try S. S. S., and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible Eczema was all gone, not a sign left; my general health built up, and I have never had any return of the disease.
